MEET DANIELLE WELDON

Make-up Artist, Experimenter, Innovator

"I have had the opportunity to work with models, celebrities, producers and stylists from Miami to LA and continue to seek opportunities that I feel will enhance and challenge my creativity and artistry".

FashionQandA.com got the opportunity to secure the talents of Miss Danielle Weldon on the Take Two editorial, shot on location in South Beach Miami for this month's issue. We knew the models were going to be in good hands. Not only does Danielle bring amazing energy on set, she is a true professional in every sense. "People often ask why I am so passionate about being a makeup artist. My response is that beauty has no limits or boundaries and that conventional rules are meant to be broken," proclaims Weldon. Weldon, who is based in South Florida, spent 6 years at MAC cosmetics and is a true creator and gifted in transforming and bringing out the natural beauty of her clients.

A seasoned pro Weldon has worked with celebrities, runway models, for print and film. If you think make-up artistry is easy, think again. When asked why she wanted to pursue this trade, she dishes, "I was born and raised in the city of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and as a result I had to endure many years of being snowed in for the winter. Consequently, I would sit for hours studying and creating different make-up looks. My first inspiration came from Kevyn Aucoin whose work made me realize that I wanted to pursue his style of makeup artistry." Spending many years perfecting her craft Weldon knew that she was destined for makeup artistry in the fashion and film industries. Not only does she have a flair for fabulousness, she is beautiful inside and out.
